SP500

Over the last few days, we've been warning of the potential green W-3/c top brewing, since the index had reached the next higher ideal target zone (223.6-238.2%) from where a pullback had an increased chance of developing. However, we didn't have complete confirmation yet because the index had not closed below the daily 2nd (gray) warning level yet. At the same time, negative divergence and market breadth were bad, adding weight to the evidence of a top forming. Today, the index closed below the 3rd, orange, warning level (6281), indicating that the correction is now most likely underway (>75% chance). Thus, we now feature warning levels for the bears on our chart: 1st, blue, warning at 6287; 2nd, grey, warning at 6327; 3rd, orange, warning at 6380; 4th, final warning (red) at 6427.

Since we prefer this pullback as a (green) 4th wave, it will at a minimum subdivide into three (gray) waves: a-b-c, which "should stall at 6050+/-100 (upper end preferred), and W-5 can then target, ideally, the extended 5th wave target zone (276.4-300%) at 6690-6825." W-a should now be underway, to ideally 6200+/-25, followed by a W-b to ~6325 and a final W-c to 5985-6115, depending on where exactly W-b will top, and what Fib-extension the W-c will take. Regardless, the W-c target zone is precisely in the ideal green W-4 target zone. Please note that the daily RSI5 is already entering the low-risk/high-reward buy zone.

NASDAQ

Over the past few days, we showed that “The index remains ‘toppy,’ “ but that even yesterday “...the Bulls made a stick save at the 2nd warning level (21078 vs. 21001).” Therefore, there was “still no final resolution,” and as we mentioned before, “...the index must start moving below the critical warning levels to show that the gray W-iii/c is complete.” Today, at last (!), the index closed below the 3rd, orange, warning level (20750), indicating that the correction is now most likely underway (>75% chance). Thus, we now feature warning levels for the bears on our chart: 1st, blue, warning at 20865; 2nd, grey, warning at 21078; 3rd, orange, warning at 21303; 4th, final warning (red) at 21457.

Since we favor this pullback as a (gray) 4th wave, it will at least subdivide into three (orange) waves: a-b-c. W-a should now be underway, ideally around 20500 +/- 500, followed by a W-b to roughly 21075 +/- 100 and a final W-c to 19450-20025, depending on where exactly W-b will top and what Fibonacci extension W-c will reach. In any case, the W-c target zone aligns precisely with the ideal gray W-iv target zone. Note that the daily RS15 is already entering the low-risk/high-reward buy zone. We will update the wave labels, as we did for the SPX, over the coming days by one degree to match them with the red W-v of the black W-3.

NASDAQ 100

Over the past few days, we showed that “the index already looked ‘toppy,’” and that yesterday “worsen[ed] the situation with a bearish (engulfing) reversal fueled by strong negative divergences.” Besides, the index had “reached its green 223.60% target (23589 vs 23545),” which we had as a target for weeks now, and recognized “with that fulfillment, it can take a break for the green W-4. A 4-7% pullback to the upper part of the green W-4 target zone is entirely normal after the recent run-up.” Thus, although there were plenty of signs of a top, we know that “the price is the ultimate judge and it had not yet closed below the second warning level, which once again held intra-day (23176 vs 23204).” Today, finally 😊, the index closed below the 3rd, orange, warning level (22953), indicating that the correction is now most likely underway (>75% chance). Thus, we now feature warning levels for the bears on our chart: 1st, blue, warning at 22972; 2nd, grey, warning at 23176; 3rd, orange, warning at 23345; 4th, final warning (red) at 23589.

Since we prefer this pullback as a (green) 4th wave, it will at a minimum subdivide into three (gray) waves: a-b-c. W-a should now be underway, to ideally 23700+/-100, followed by a W-b to 23200+/-100 and a final W-c to 21650-22200, depending on where exactly W-b will top, and what Fib-extension the W-c will take. Regardless, the W-c target zone is precisely in the ideal green W-4 target zone. Please note that the daily RSI5 is already entering the low-risk/high-reward buy zone. Once the potential green W-4 bottoms out, the subsequent green W-5 should rally to 24560-25575.

DOW JONES INDUSTRIAL AVERAGE

Our original “flat gray W-iv” is performing well. As mentioned yesterday, “we view the orange W-c of the gray W-iv as underway to ideally 42250-900, from where the gray W-v can develop to ideally 45200-46320.” That still holds true, with the blue W-iii still in progress. A one- to three-day rise over the next few days will be seen as the blue W-iv, followed by a final W-v to ideally 43075, but possibly as low as 42083, though we prefer the upper limit. Therefore, the daily warning levels are now changed to Bearish at: 1st, blue, warning at 43781; 2nd, gray, warning at 44261; 3rd, orange, warning at 44833; 4th, final warning (red) at 45016.

SEMI CONDUCTORS

There is no material change; the gray W-c of the potential green W-4, ideally around $5100+/-100, is in progress, with a preference for the upper end. The index has now closed below the fourth, red, warning level (5429) which tells us the green W-3/c top is confirmed (100%), because, as stated over the last several days: "Now the index needs to close below the orange warning level, which held again (3rd time) to confirm our thesis."

Thus, we now feature warning levels for the bears: 1st warning at 5558, 2nd warning at 5657, 3rd warning at 5738, 4th warning at 5820. P.S.: We may see a subdivision occurring as shown for the previous indexes, which simply means this week's high was the green W-3/c—potato vs potato... 😊

SMALL CAPS

We have stuck with the 'bearish' flat W-4 option for this index, and this approach/count continues to serve us very well, as the index has now closed below the fourth, red, warning level (1339), fully (100%) confirming that the potential green W-4 is underway.

Thus, as we stated yesterday, "The orange W-3 is now in progress," BINGO (!) and a one- to three-day rise over the next few days will be seen as the orange W-4, followed by a final W-5 to ideally 1295+/-25. Therefore, the daily warning levels are now changed to Bearish at: 1st, blue, warning at 1336; 2nd, gray, warning at 1353; 3rd, orange, warning at 1383; 4th, final warning (red) at 1399.

Please note that this index's daily RSI5, like that of several other indexes, has already reached the BUY ZONE (a low-risk/high-reward region). Hence, shorting now seems too late. Besides, shorting is only preferable in bear markets, not corrections in an ongoing Bull market, which are buying opportunities as you get a discount...

CRYPTO CURRENCIES

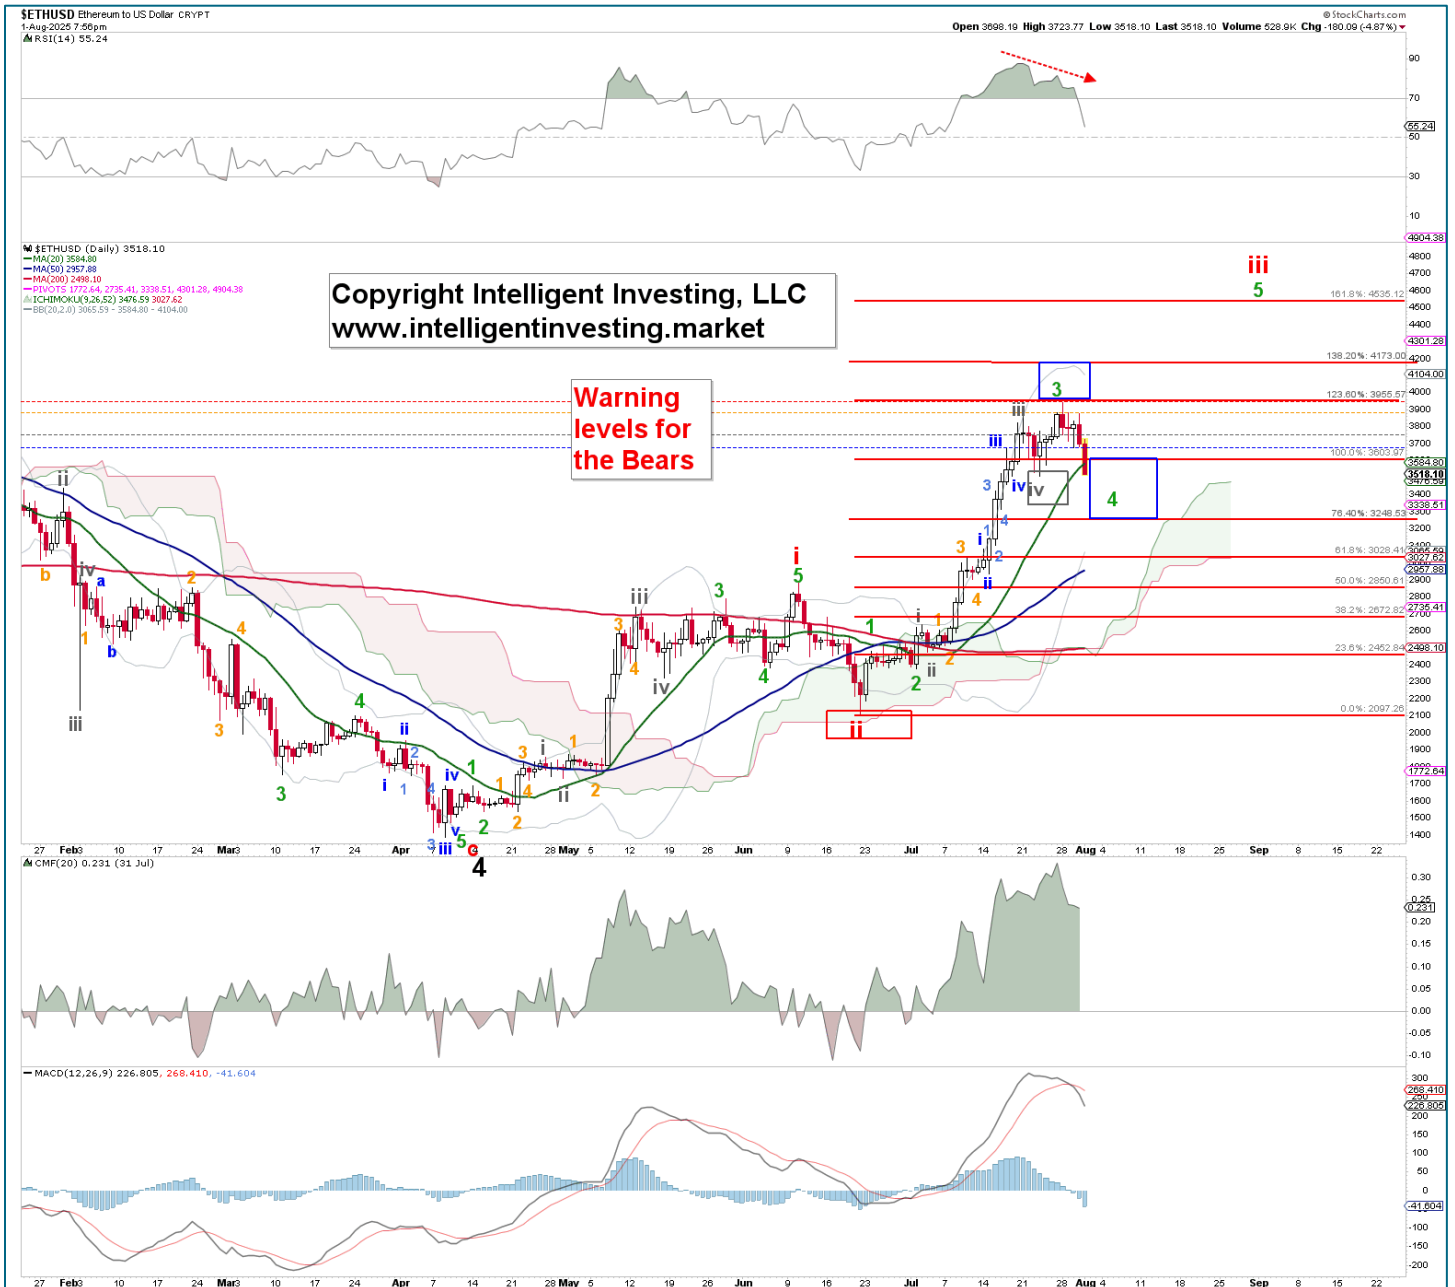

BITCOIN

Well, not the direction we were looking for... Thus, the orange W-4 continues as shown. If we see overlap with the orange W-1 high as well as the green W-1 high, then we will shift our EW count to a larger ending diagonal fifth wave pattern, which is often a 3-3-3-3 (abc-abc-abc-abc-abc) path or combination thereof, e.g., 5-3-3-3-5. That means the recent rally from the April low was the 5-3-a part, and now the W-b of the W-3 (abc) is underway. For now, we can allow for the orange W-4 to progress as shown with the pink W-3 of the blue W-c underway. Please note the daily RSI5 is already in the buy zone, which allows for a low-risk/high-reward setup. But there are no signs of a reversal yet, and thus we have now placed levels for the Bears to watch on the chart: 1st, blue, warning at 115765; 2nd, gray, warning at 118927; 3rd, orange, warning at 120298; 4th, final warning (red) at 123220

ETHEREUM

We've been monitoring the green W-4 as our preferred EWP count, with the option of an extended gray W-v. Today's price move confirms our preferred POV was correct, and on Wednesday, we noted "Below today's low and especially $3510, and the green W-4 keeps moving along." We expect ETH to reach ideally the 76.40% extension at ~$3250 followed by a rally to $4535ish for the green W-5.

Over the last several weeks, we've been tracking RIOT's progress as a potential impulse (green W-1 through W-5) higher, and found that it recently put in a green W-3 top. We therefore anticipated a pullback to "12.50-13.20 before the green W-5 should kick in. Thus, the warning levels are adjusted to 13.92, 13.24, 12.33, and 11.90."

All was well until today, with price now trading in the low 11s... Thus, we only got three waves up from the April low. This means two things:

A) There will not be five (green) waves up, but instead only three, and the entire rally from the April low will also be only three waves to ideally around \$23.25. See the weekly chart. The recent top was the red W-a, the current decline is part of the red W-b, with an ideal low at the 76.40% retracement (\$8.30ish), from where a red W-c = $1.618 \times W-a$ can target the one-degree higher black W-c = W-a.

B) The black W-2/b is not done. We had a false breakout above the recent downtrend lines in place since 2023, and now the final (gray) W-c of the green W-2 of the ending diagonal red W-c is underway to ideally ~$5. This is not our preferred scenario, but it is not impossible at this stage. Thus, we expect lower prices going forward, one way or another.

GOLD AND OIL

GOLD

We know we've been flip-flopping on this one, but that's expected when the price action since April has been a sideways, overlapping mess: all ABCs, moving up and down. So, that suggests a correction. Using the weekly chart (zooming out), we can see this chaotic price action as a 4th wave triangle, but it's really the Bulls' last hope, and it needs a break above $3450 to confirm this scenario. GOLD must stay above $3200 to let this pattern complete, which should ideally target ~$3665.

OIL (UCO)

Earlier this week, we made our first entry into the liquid gold asset class: oil by assessing BRENT. Then, we presented a simple potential breakout chart for USO, and today, we dive into UCO. Also, here we see an ending diagonal (red) W-c developing since the 2023 high, which could have completed at this year's low. In an ED, the fifth wave (green W-5 in this case) often stalls at the 161.80% extension and not the 200%. Sometimes, it reaches 176.40%. Additionally, we can see that the green W-3 is longer than W-1 (as it exceeds the 100% extension), while the ED pattern (green dotted arrows) looks complete, with a classic "overthrow" for the fifth wave. Also, the ETF has reached the ideal (black) W-2/b target zone. Therefore, although another lower low, preferably around $13+/-2, cannot be ruled out yet, we also observe that the correction is closer to ending than beginning. As a result, the risk/reward profile is leaning towards reward ($10 vs $80+).

TRADING IS BORING – JUST THE RULES MA'AM*

- Short-term results are (more) random than intermediate- to long-term. Focus accordingly.
- An "edge" appears only through repetition.
- Thus, a trader's job is not to win, but to relentlessly repeat the same actions.
- Therefore, a trader doesn't wait for opportunities driven by the urge and desire to trade.
- Your responsibility is to follow the rules, and nothing more.
 - Thus, you act only because
 - "The opportunity has arrived,"
 - "It's the rule,"
 - "There is no choice but to act."
- You don't have the authority to decide "whether or not to follow that rule."
- Avoid setting a daily profit target.
 - It is irrelevant to you and beyond your control.
- If you are going to reflect, focus on failing to follow the rules. That will teach you!
- A trading system with a 50-50 win/loss ratio (WLR) and a 2-1 win/loss percentage (% WLP) is still more effective than one with a 90-10 (WLR) and a 1-5 (WLP).
 - It's not about how many trades you win.
 - It's about cutting losers and allowing winners to run.
