SP500

We've been tracking the current rally as a W-b, breaking it down into W-a, W-b, and W-c. Therefore, we suggested yesterday that "we can start better defining the preferred W-b path, assuming W-c = W-a; the index can target 6423. This is about 100 points higher than the original target we set for Friday, but that's because we begin with a standard 50-76% retracement of W-a." Today, the index reached 6389, which is just 0.5% lower and only 1.0% from Friday's forecast, and it reversed intra-day again (like Tuesday), indicating that the W-b has likely topped.

Thus, we can (re)adjust the W-c target zone to 6055-6180, which still aligns well with the upper end of the green W-4's ideal target zone. Thus, very simply put: as long as today's high holds, we should look lower, and thus we keep the warning levels for the bears as is: 1st at 6287; 2nd at 6327; 3rd at 6380; 4th at 6427.

NASDAQ

We've been tracking the current rally as a W-b, breaking it down into W-a, W-b, and W-c. Therefore, we suggested yesterday that "we can start better defining the preferred W-b path, assuming W-c = W-a; the index can target 21470. This is about 295 points higher than the original target we set for Friday, but that's because we begin with a standard 50-76% retracement of W-a. A bit more upside could turn the green W-4 into a flat (a=b=c) correction. This is quite typical for a 4th wave." Today, we got a bit more upside, as the index reached 21408, which is just 0.3% lower and only 1.1% from Friday's forecast, and it reversed intra-day again (like Tuesday), suggesting that the W-b has likely topped.

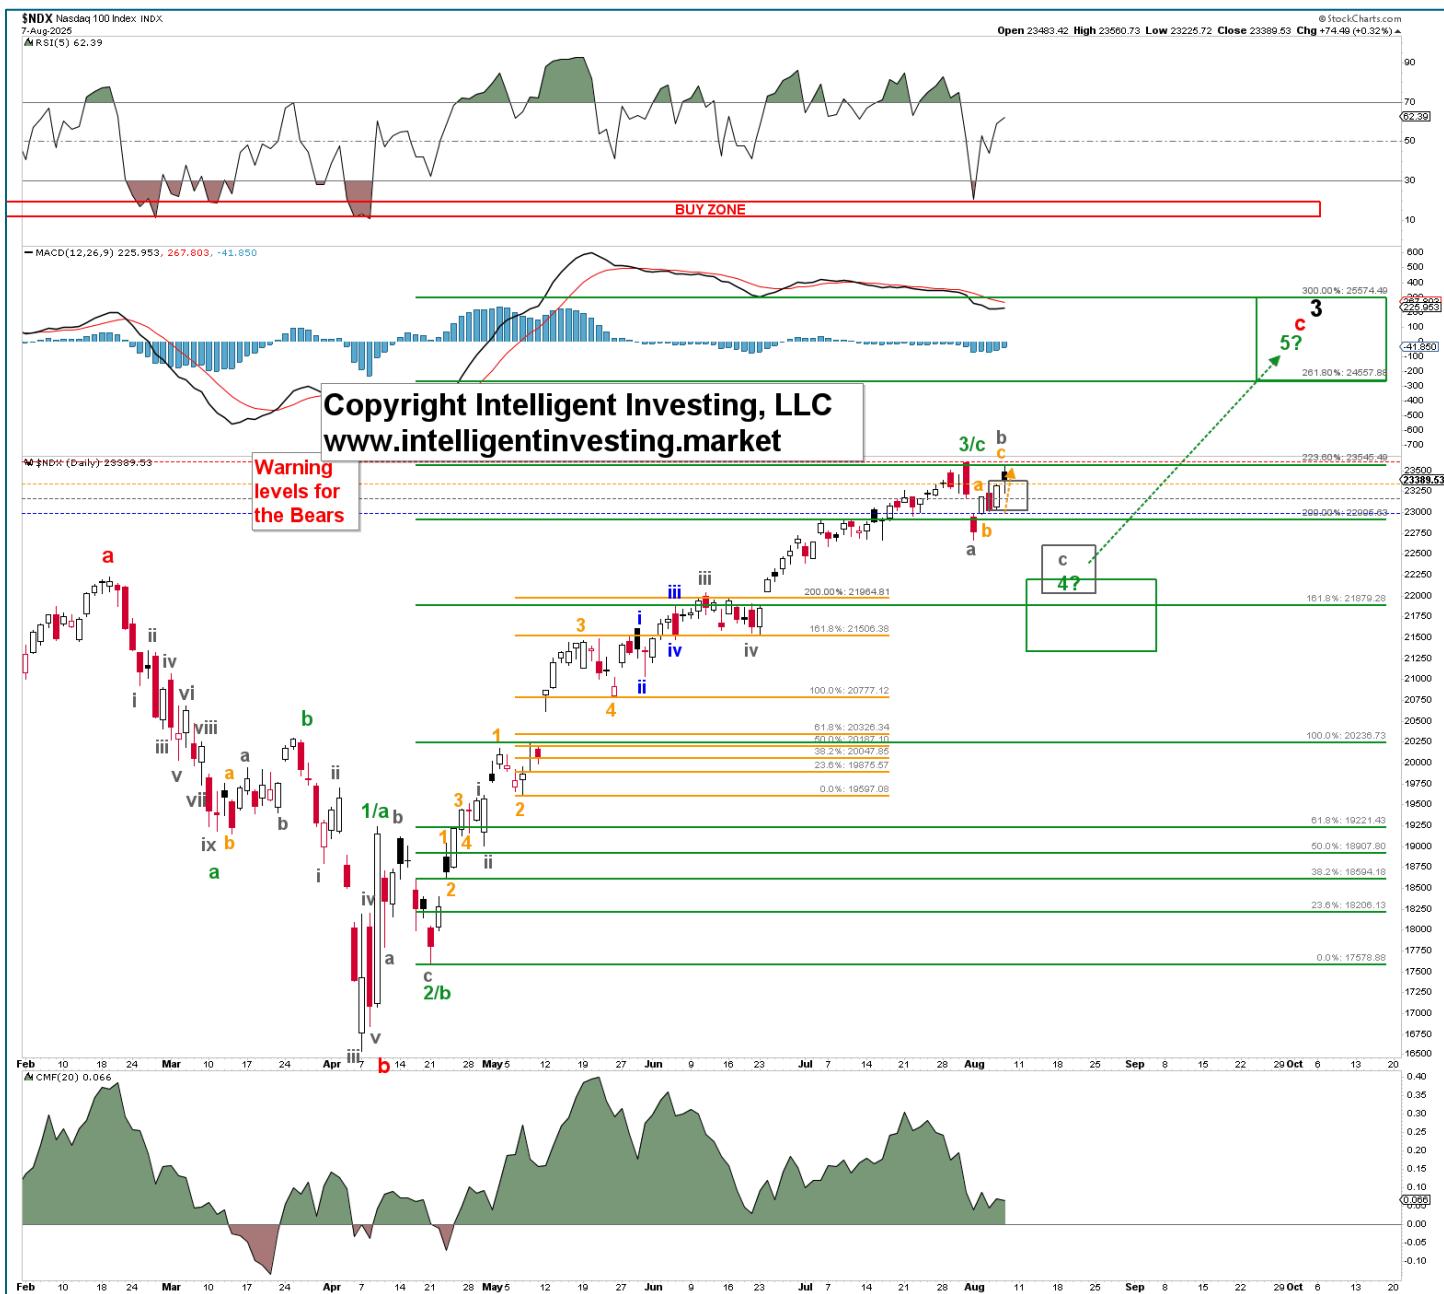

Thus, we can (re)adjust the W-c target zone to 19955-205120, which still aligns well with the upper end of the green W-4's ideal target zone. Thus, very simply put: as long as today's high holds, we should look lower, and thus we keep the warning levels for the bears as is: 1st at 20865; 2nd at 21078; 3rd at 21303; 4th at 21457.

NASDAQ100

We've been tracking the current rally as a W-b, breaking it down into W-a, W-b, and W-c. Therefore, we suggested yesterday that "we can start better defining the preferred W-b path, assuming W-c = W-a; the index can target 23620. This is about 320 points higher than the original target we set for Friday, but that's because we begin with a standard 50-76% retracement of W-a. A bit more upside could turn the green W-4 into a flat (a=b=c) correction. This is quite typical for a 4th wave." Today, we got a bit more upside, as the index reached 23560, which is just 0.2% lower and only 1.1% from Friday's forecast, and it reversed intra-day again (like Tuesday), indicating that the W-b has likely topped.

Thus, we can (re)adjust the W-c target zone to 22045-22610, which still aligns well with the upper end of the green W-4's ideal target zone. Thus, very simply put: as long as today's high holds, we should look lower, and thus we keep the warning levels for the bears as is: 1st at 22972; 2nd at 23176; 3rd at 23345; 4th at 23589.

DOW JONES INDUSTRIAL AVERAGE

As a reminder, on Friday, we found, "a one-to three-day rise over the next few days will be seen as the orange W-4, followed by a final W-5 to ideally 43075, but possibly as low as 42083, though we prefer the upper limit." That orange W-4 likely topped today, and W-5 should be underway, contingent on the index holding below today's high of 44498. Thus, so far so good, and we can keep the daily warning levels for the Bearish at:

1st at 43781; 2nd at 44261; 3rd at 44650; 4th at 45016.

SEMI CONDUCTORS

Our forecast from Friday remains on track: "Like the other indexes, the gray W-b should now be underway, contingent on holding below the red warning level (and that goes, of course, for all other indexes). We expect the gray W-b to be a multi-day affair targeting 5700+/-50. From there, ideally, the gray W-c can take hold and target 5040-5290, with the upper end preferred. Earlier this week, we added "Otherwise, today's high could be W-a of W-b (up), then W-b of W-b is underway (down), followed by a final W-c of W-b (up)," which is what we got as the index topped at 5701 today and reversed again. Btw, the ideal W-c = W-a target would have been 5706... Thus, the index came with 5p = 0.09%... Crazy accurate!"

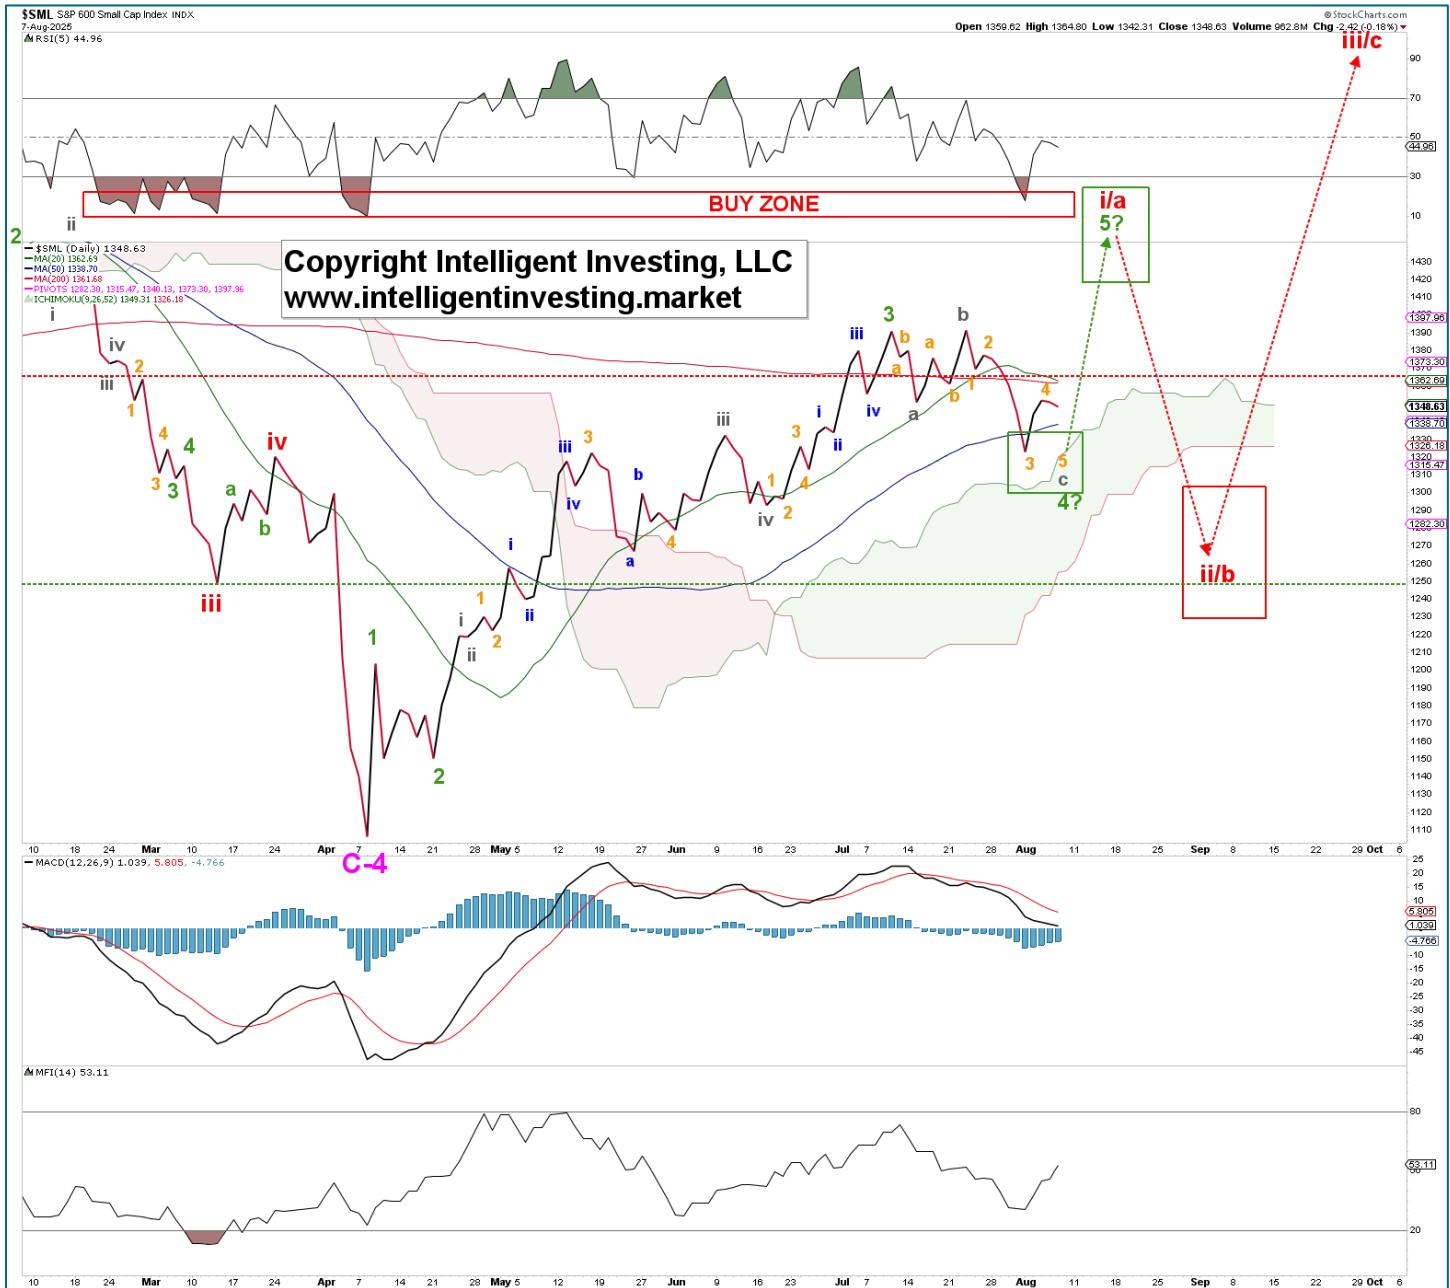

Thus, contingent on holding below today's high, we expect the index to reach the 5040-5290 zone, with the upper end preferred, and we keep the warning levels for the bears as is:

1st at 5558, 2nd at 5657, 3rd at 5738, 4th at 5820."

SMALL CAPS

Almost a week later, and things are still on track: "The orange W-3 bottomed out on Friday, and the orange W-4 is underway. It should stay below 1365; if it moves above that level, the chances of the green W-4 already being completed on Friday increase significantly." Thus, contingent on holding below today's low, we now expect the orange W-5 to be underway, with an ideal target of 1295+/-10. Therefore, the daily warning levels for the Bearish remain at: 1st at 1336; 2nd at 1353; 3rd at 1365; 4th at 1399.

CRYPTO CURRENCIES

BITCOIN

Today, we present our subdividing W-3 count, as the orange W-1 of the gray W-iii of the green W-3 should now be underway, depending on remaining above Sunday's low of 111925, but we have, of course, our earlier warning levels indicating this path is at risk. See below. Note that a W-1 high near the recent ATH, followed by a quick orange W-2 to about $115K, allows a standard Fibonacci-based impulse pattern to target the grey and green 100% extensions for the orange W-3 (a typical 3rd of 3rd wave target) and nearly the gray 161.8% extension for the orange W-5. This confluence supports maintaining this path for now.

Our warning levels are therefore: 1st at 115038; 2nd at 114127; 3rd at 112629; 4th at 111925.

ETHEREUM

Yesterday we found, "Assuming Sunday's $3356 low was the end of the green W-4, then we can have the gray W-i, ii set up in place as shown. The ideal W-ii target zone is $3450-3555, so yesterday's low at $3546 got us close enough. Now, ETH needs to break above Monday's $3737 high to strongly suggest W-iii of W-5 of W-iii is underway, with confirmation above $3878." BINGO, we got the break above $3737, and our preferred view is that the gray W-iii is underway. Now all we need is a break, i.e., a daily close, above $3878, for confirmation. Thus, we adjust the primary warning levels from Bear to Bull and adjust them to: 1st at 3737, 2nd at 3648, 3rd at 3546, and 4th at 3356.

GOLD AND OIL

GLD

Earlier this week, we found, "Therefore, as long as last week's low remains intact, we can aim for another rally toward the ideal fifth wave target zone around $322-325. Warning levels for the bulls are set at 1st, blue, at 309.55; 2nd, gray, at 307.45; 3rd, orange, at 302.86; 4th, at 300.95." Given that little has changed since Monday, with the index's price remaining above the 1st warning level, we maintain the current status and continue to anticipate GLD reaching the $322-325 zone.

GDX & GDXJ

The follow-through for the blue W-III continues as expected, and it should be topping out about now as the 161.8% extension has been reached. A smaller blue W-IV to max $55.65, but probably not more than $56.65+/-0.3, should commence soon.

So we can raise our warning levels for the Bulls to: 1st at 57.39, 2nd at 56.48, 3rd at 54.78, and the 4th at 51.37.

Similarly, the follow-through on GDXJ continues as expected, and as stated on Tuesday, “Like the green W-1 and W-3, we should expect the green W-5 to split into three waves (not shown). First target, however, is $72.5+/-0.50.”

The “anticipated path (still a bit tentative)” we added yesterday remains thus in effect and is now less tentative.

We anticipate the gray W-b to stall out at around $68.50+/-0.50 before the gray W-c kicks in.

Thus, we can raise our warning levels for the Bulls to: 1st at 71.24, 2nd at 69.58, 3rd at 67.76, and the 4th at 63.90.

TRADING IS BORING – JUST THE RULES MA’AM*

- Short-term results are (more) random than intermediate- to long-term. Focus accordingly.
- An "edge" appears only through repetition.
- Thus, a trader's job is not to win, but to relentlessly repeat the same actions.
- Therefore, a trader doesn't wait for opportunities driven by the urge and desire to trade.
- Your responsibility is to follow the rules, and nothing more.
 - Thus, you act only because
 - "The opportunity has arrived,"
 - "It's the rule,"
 - "There is no choice but to act."
- You don't have the authority to decide "whether or not to follow that rule."
- Avoid setting a daily profit target.
 - It is irrelevant to you and beyond your control.
- If you are going to reflect, focus on failing to follow the rules. That will teach you!
- A trading system with a 50-50 win/loss ratio (WLR) and a 2-1 win/loss percentage (%), WLP) is still more effective than one with a 90-10 (WLR) and a 1-5 (WLP).
 - It's not about how many trades you win.
 - It's about cutting losers and allowing winners to run.

Our new trading systems work best by applying the principle of compounding, which involves reinvesting some or all of your profits in the next trade. The more you compound, the better the returns will be. Please review the table below.

Please do not trade positions bought without the system's signals using the system's trading signals. Additionally, please refrain from entering a position when the trade is already in progress; wait for a new trading signal.

The code for these trading systems is available for purchase. Please contact us for pricing details. It is written in Pine Script and can be directly integrated into TradingView, Alpaca, or Interactive Brokers (IBKR), allowing it to manage all your trading needs. Any AI, such as GROK or ChatGPT, can quickly modify the code to another language if necessary.
