STOCKMARKETS

SP500

The hourly chart continues to track the impulse off the November low well. Last week we tracked "the blue W-v of W-3 at 6866 almost reached the expected ideal 6885+/-15 target zone (off by 4p...). Thus, the orange W-4 to ideally 6805+/-20 should now be underway, and will be followed by a final W-5 to ideally 6940+/-20, possibly as high as 7040+/-20."

The W-5 reached 6895, right on target to complete W-iii, and now W-iv is underway, ideally to 6805 +/- 25 before W-v kicks in, ideally to 6940-7040, barring any unforeseen extensions.

The hourly RSI5 has already reached the low-risk buy zone! So, don't be surprised if W-iv fails (in bull markets, downside disappoints...). Thus, the Bull's warning levels for the short-term are set at: 6827, 6799, 6738, 6659, and 6596.

NO CHANGES FROM LAST WEEK for the daily, intermediate-term chart, as our primary view remains correct until proven otherwise, in that the W-5 to 7210+ is underway. The Bull's warning levels are now set at: 6827, 6799, 6715, 6659, and 6521

Note that we now have four warning levels, reducing the odds of continued upside by 20% for each breached level.

NASDAQ100

The hourly chart continues to track the impulse off the November low well. Last week, the last thing we tracked was “the orange W-4 to ideally 25300+/-100 should now be underway. To be followed by a final W-5 to complete W-iii at ideally 25900+/-100, etc. The ideal W-v target zone is still at 26500+/-250, which will get the index close to the ideal ~26800 target for the (much) larger black W-3.”

The W-4 bottomed at 25450, and the W-5 topped at 25827. Thus, our accuracy ranged from 0.1% to 0.2... Not too shabby! Therefore, W-iv is now underway, ideally to 25330+/-120, before W-v, ideally to 26500-26750, kicks in.

The hourly RSI5 is close to reaching the low-risk buy zone, so don’t be surprised if W-iv fails (in bull markets, downside disappoints...). Thus, the Bull’s warning levels for the short-term are set at: 25450, 25158, 24542, 24214, and 23854.

NO CHANGES FROM LAST WEEK for the daily, intermediate-term chart, as our primary view of the W-5 to 26800+ remains correct until proven otherwise, which are breaks below the Bull’s warning levels are raised to: 25617, 25622, 24923, 24542, and 23854

Note that we now have four warning levels, reducing the odds of continued upside by 20% for each breached level.

DOW JONES INDUSTRIAL AVERAGE

No change from last week. Our primary view remains that the W-5 to 49550+/-250 is underway. Here we show the possibility of a subdividing W-5 per the five gray waves, which can allow for a drop to ~46500 for the gray W-ii. It is not necessary for this to happen, but we are simply sharing the possibility as forewarned is forearmed and it would present a nice low risk swing trade setup. The Bull's warning levels are now set at: 47692, 47263, 46587, 45728.

SEMICONDUCTORS

With the continued upside we've enjoyed recently, the W-5 in progress option has become our preferred POV, as confirmed by today's new ATH!

Last week it "appeared the gray W-iii topped, and the gray W-iv is underway, ideally to 7000 +/- 70 before the W-v kicks in," but the continued upside to the ideal 161.80% Fib-extension for a 3rd wave contingent suggests the W-iii is still underway. Thus, we can raise the warning levels for the Bulls to 7282, 7180, 6920, 6733, and 6457. Note that we now have four warning levels, reducing the odds of continued upside by 20% for each breached level.

SMALL CAPS

Not much progress lately, so we must keep things as is until proven otherwise in that “our primary view remains that the W-5 to 1575+/50 is underway,” contingent on the index holding above the Bull’s warning levels set at: 1476, 1456, 1430, 1407, and 1369. Note that we now have four warning levels, reducing the odds of continued upside by 20% for each breached level. We won’t get too concerned about the uptrend until the orange level is broken.

MARKET BREADTH

There was no Zweig Breadth Thrust on Friday because the indicator did not close above 0.615. This signal occurs in only about 2% of the setups, so it's not unexpected. This also does not mean that the indexes cannot move higher.

Meanwhile our Intermediate-term indicator remains long, despite today's (shallow) decline.

CRYPTO CURRENCIES

BITCOIN

Messy overlapping price action continues, so we're still stuck to two options until we see a final resolution (breakout or breakdown). So please remain patient. Option one is that the red W-iv is completed, and that a new motive wave, either as a nested set of 1st and 2nd waves (impulse), or as a leading diagonal wave, is underway. Both options are contingent on the Bulls' warning levels, which remain at 90083, 88529, 90381, 83828, and 80562.

The alternative is that W-iv has most likely completed, though it can still extend to ideally 96870-102360, contingent on BTC holding below 103552. Since C-waves (green W-c) often comprise five waves, and we've only had three gray waves down so far, it carries clout. Thus, a potential, subdividing W-v can be considered underway, targeting (W-5 of W-v) ideally $80885-79350, which is very close to the ideal larger W-iv target of $78,000 +/- 2K. The warning levels for the Bears remain at 89289, 93116, 103552, 116395, and 124532.

Thus, as stated last week, “there’s [unfortunately] still way too little price data available to favor one over the other. It will take several more days, up to one to two weeks, before we know.”

Patience is, as always, required!

ETHEREUM

No change from last week: As for BTC, there's still unfortunately too little price data to favor one wave count over the other, so we must present both until the market tells us which it will be. There's no other way around it and no other way of knowing! Remember, as we have stated often, "markets move from clear to unclear and clear, etc". Well, here we are in the "unclear." But we have our warning levels to help us tell ASAP which of the two it is.

Thus, option 1 is "a more protracted W-iv, with W-c of W-iv underway, which should remain below 3546. Above it, the odds increase that the red W-b is underway. Thus, the warning levels for the bears remain at 3059, 3546, 4253, 4758, and 4955.¹¹

The 2nd option is that "the W-a ended, as there are enough waves in place to consider it complete, although the final W-iv is very brief (1 day) vs a multi-week W-ii... But we can raise the first warning levels for the bulls to 3041, 2927, 2799, 2719, and 2621."

Note that we now have four warning levels, reducing the odds of continued upside or downside by 20% for each breached level. We won't get too concerned about the presented EW counts until the orange level is broken.

Now we hope for a resolution soon, so we can end this stall mate!

GOLD, MINERS & OIL

GOLD

Just like Friday, another “minimal price movement of only +0.1%, which doesn’t change anything from yesterday, or the day before that, etc. Thus, we can stick with ..., the W-c of W-b is wrapping up, subdividing into five smaller (orange) waves, with the last W-5 expected to be ideally 4350 +/- 10. All contingent on holding at least above 4132, and especially 4022 (the orange W-1 and W-2, respectively).”

GDX & GDXJ

With today's price action, the impulse is becoming less likely, albeit not impossible. Still, if GDX breaks below $78.54 and especially 76.86, it will become increasingly difficult to hold on to it, and then we switch to the b-wave option we've had using GDXJ. Thus, the bulls must essentially hold above today's lows to allow for another swing higher, mainly since the price action since the December 1 high can be best assessed as corrective at this stage. But there's not much wiggle room left.

Thus, the alternative option shown in the GDXJ chart, is increasing in odds with today's continued downside. But as stated, “since the price action since the December 1 high can be best assessed as corrective,” and it, therefore, still requires a move below 101, and especially 99 to make this our favorite.

Thus, keep a good eye out on the warning levels for the Bulls as things are getting more serious now in having to decide if we see that next leg lower (W-c) or not:

GDX 81.77, 78.54, 76.86, 72.45.
GDXJ 106.28, 101.48, 98.97,
92.66.

TRADING IS BORING – JUST THE RULES, MA’AM*

- Short-term results are (more) random than intermediate- to long-term. Focus accordingly.
- An "edge" appears only through repetition.
- Thus, a trader's job is not to win, but to relentlessly repeat the same actions.
- Therefore, a trader doesn't wait for opportunities driven by the urge and desire to trade.
- Your responsibility is to follow the rules, and nothing more.
 - Thus, you act only because
 - "The opportunity has arrived,"
 - "It's the rule,"
 - "There is no choice but to act."
- You don't have the authority to decide "whether or not to follow that rule."
- Avoid setting a daily profit target.
 - It is irrelevant to you and beyond your control.
- If you are going to reflect, focus on failing to follow the rules. That will teach you!
- A trading system with a 50-50 win/loss ratio (WLR) and a 2-1 win/loss percentage (%), WLP) is still more effective than one with a 90-10 (WLR) and a 1-5 (WLP).
 - It's not about how many trades you win.
 - It's about cutting losers and allowing winners to run.

Did you make a “good trade” today? Well, kudos to you, but if you only looked at the trade’s profit to decide whether it was good, you did it all wrong. Specifically, your P/L has nothing to do with that assessment. A profit gained by breaking your rules is the worst trade because it creates a false sense of success in your mind. Conversely, a loss that occurs while perfectly following your rules is a valuable learning experience that helps build a long-term edge.

Unless you can accept this, you haven't truly started trading.

Lastly, the 1st rule in trading is to always minimize your losses! Profits are secondary... Know the difference.

*BACKTESTED TRADING SYSTEM PERFORMANCES

Our new trading systems work best by applying the compounding principle, which involves reinvesting some or all of your profits in the next trade. The more you compound, the better the returns will be. Please review the table below. All the data for each ETF, CRYPTO, and almost every MAG7+ STOCK is also available here.

Please do not trade positions bought without the system's signals using the system's trading signals. Additionally, please refrain from entering a position when the trade is already in progress; wait for a new trading signal.

These systems operate entirely independently of our analyses. Do not try to combine or correlate them. They track prices and their trends based on several parameters that trigger buy, sell, or hold signals through if/then conditions. Sometimes our analysis is correct while the system is wrong, or vice versa. Or both can be right or wrong. Therefore, these systems complement our analyses and represent the ultimate trading experience: simply execute the signal. Refer to the previous page for what trading really is: a mindless, boring process of execution. Nothing more, nothing less.

The code for these trading systems is available for purchase. Please contact us for pricing details. It is written in Pine Script and can be directly integrated into TradingView, Alpaca, or Interactive Brokers (IBKR), allowing it to manage all your trading needs. Any AI, such as GROK or ChatGPT, can quickly modify the code to another language if necessary.
