THANK YOU TO ALL OF THOSE WHO ALREADY JOINED ME ON PEAKBOT. SO FAR, I AM UP ~$1700 IN CLOSED TRADES SINCE INCEPTION ON JULY 17!

Trade what I trade, without lifting a finger, by connecting your brokerage account through PeakBot to my account: https://peakbot.com/intelligent-investing-bot/. Starting at $197/month.

My goal is to make an average of ~$100/day, which is ~$500/week and ~$2,000/month, knowing full well that not all market environments are conducive to such returns.

My strategy gives the market time to validate my Elliott Wave thesis and avoids being a victim of options' time decay (theta) when wrong. I trade at most 3x per day; positions are rarely >50% of my portfolio; I average down at most 2x (e.g., at the 3rd and 5th waves); and I hedge-trade around a core position if necessary (e.g., at the 2nd and 4th waves). Most trades are swing- or intra-day.

DOW JONES INDUSTRIAL AVERAGE (DOW) & NYSE

Outlook: Medium term (weeks to ~6 months) BEARISH. Short-term (days to ~4 weeks) NEUTRAL

We are tracking five smaller waves up for the NYSE (in blue box) to complete W-3, to be followed by a W-4 and W-5, which could wrap up over the next 2-3 weeks based on seasonality (see SPX). Strong resistance for the NYSE is at the upper trendlines in place since 2022/2023 (!). We therefore have a hard time believing the index will bust through that given how long in the tooth this rally is. Instead, SMALL CAP and the DOW have been trading in tandem for quite a while, and we see SMALL wrapping up a 3rd wave (see SMALL) over preferably the intermediate degree, possibly the major degree. So we expect the same for the DOW and NYSE, matching our notion from yesterday: "it appears on many levels that something is ending, not beginning." Besides, the NYMO and associated NYSI continue to look weak, negatively divergent, and not as strong as at the beginning of a new impulse/kickoff wave, when breadth is expanding rapidly.

Thus, overall, the DOW and NYSE do not support that Bullish EWP option to SPX10,000.

We showed for the DOW and NYSE that last week's low was most likely not a major low, and that these indexes appear to be in a final 5th wave of a larger 3rd wave rather than a 1st wave. As such, we still have a hard time seeing the SPX in a nested 1st- and 2nd-wave setup (2nd chart). It's possible, but likely?! Hmmm…, prove me wrong, Mr. Market. In the meantime, we don't have any signs of a top yet, while the short term allows for another set of 4th and 5th waves (charts 1 and 2). We have overlaid seasonality with the count, showing good agreement. Thus, W-3 could wrap up early next week at ideally $7,865, W-4 into late next week at ideally $ 7,655, followed by a final 5th in the 3rd week of August at ideally $7,995: vertical lines in CHART 1. Note that c-waves of a larger B-wave are most often also five waves, and may therefore wrong-foot many, thinking that a new impulse has started…But again, a W-2 that lasted five days after a W-1 lasting ~45 days, while the two degree lower W-2 lasted 10 days, is technically possible, but very odd as lower degree waves, obviously, are smaller in price and shorter in time than larger degree waves…

With the current data at hand, we still have a hard time counting five waves up from last week's low to this week's high, unless this morphs into a leading diagonal. TBD, but we would then count it preferably as a W-a of W-b. Hence, we stick to our W-a-b-c scenario, especially since the index bottomed right in the ideal W-b target zone and rallied out of it as expected. Thus, we don't change the winning team until we must: anticipate, monitor, adjust.

Thus far, based on the data at hand, we still do not have five waves from Wednesday's low to Friday's high on the 65-min chart (CHART 1). But if we do, we assess it preferably as W-a. Thus, as stated yesterday, "we can still allow for a bit higher for W-a before W-b takes hold" (see SPX seasonality for when those two waves may be), while the NDX has a top due around August 18, which can be the green W-c.

Note that the 2nd chart's path has not been changed since mid-July; and thus far the index adhered to it very well, so we stick with it until proven otherwise.

WAVE LABEL KEY

As we said in the DOW/NYSE section: "SMALL CAP and the DOW have been trading in tandem for quite a while, and we see SMALL wrapping up a 3rd wave (see SMALL) over preferably the intermediate degree, possibly the major degree." Here we use the weekly and monthly charts to show this wave count. Especially the weekly chart (chart 1) strongly supports a W-iii top, based on closing prices and Fib extensions. Alternatively, the one-degree-higher W-3.

The ideal target for W-iii is $1883, which is only ~70p away. It should be followed by a W-iv down to around $1720, before W-v of W-3 targets ideally $1985-2005, which is where the 200% and 161.80% Fib extensions reside: classic W-v of W-3 and W-3 target. For a W-4, we expect $ 1,650 ± $50.

Overall, we have a hard time believing that the other indexes will rally, while SMALL (and the DOW, NYSE) are going through a possible ~10% correction.

CURRENT WAVE POSITION

We can count five smaller (orange) waves up from the recent low, which could be W-i of W-3. Besides, the recent pullback was almost exactly 50% of the prior rally, a common retrace for a 2nd wave. Thus, as long as last Saturday's low holds, we can allow for the W-iii of W-3 to kick in. Below that level and we must reassess…

CURRENT WAVE POSITION

We can count five smaller (blue) waves up from the recent low, which could be W-1 of W-iii. The recent pullback was quite shallow and not a common retrace for a 2nd wave, but it is not impossible. In that case, the 4th wave will be deep and fast. Thus, as long as last Saturday's low holds, we can allow for the W-iii to kick in. Below that level and we must reassess

CURRENT WAVE POSITION

The adjusted wave count "a subdividing W-iii of W-1, we look for ~$92+/-2, which would be a retest of the 200d SMA." was correct, but too conservative as GDX gapped hard above its CLOUD and the 200d SMA. Thus we can raise the warning levels even more, and the 200d SMA and CLOUD can now act as support. Thus, we see a subdividing W-1 continuing toward resistance in the 98-102 region. As long as Wednesday's low holds, the Bulls have nothing to worry about.

CURRENT WAVE POSITION

W-i of W-5 is most likely underway, as the bullish breakout above the red downtrend line earlier this week has held and a clearer impulse pattern is emerging, with W-5 of W-iii now underway. Thus, we have raised the warning levels, which is bullish even further. If ~$4000 holds, we should look for higher prices in a subdivision of the 3rd wave.

CURRENT WAVE POSITION FOR BRENT

W-2 of W-i of W-3/c has likely bottomed at $78.32 for BRENT, right in the ideal target zone of $78+/-2! Thus, if that lows hold, oil should be starting In its 3rd of a 3rd wave. But we can allow for one last orange W-5 as shown for BRENT, to finalize the W-c of W-2 in a classic five-wave fashion. It would reach the ideal 76.40% retracement level probably on + div on the indicators. Thus, the downside risk is still there, but minimal relative to the upside reward.

*BACKTESTED TRADING SYSTEM PERFORMANCES

Our new trading systems work best when you apply the compounding principle, which involves reinvesting some or all your profits into the next trade. The more you compound, the better the returns will be. Please review the tables below.

Do not trade positions bought without the system's signals using the system's trading signals. Additionally, please refrain from entering a position when the trade is already in progress; wait for a new trading signal.

These systems operate entirely independently of our analysis. Do not try to combine or correlate them. They track prices and trends across several parameters, triggering buy, sell, or hold signals based on if/then conditions. Sometimes our analysis is correct while the system is wrong, or vice versa. Or both can be right or wrong. Therefore, these systems complement our analyses and represent the ultimate trading experience: simply execute the signal. Refer to the previous page for what trading really is: a mindless, boring process of execution. Nothing more, nothing less.

The code for these trading systems is available for purchase. Please contact us for pricing details. It is written in Pine Script and can be integrated directly with TradingView, Alpaca, or Interactive Brokers (IBKR), enabling it to manage all your trading needs. Any AI, such as GROK or ChatGPT, can quickly translate code into another language if necessary.
